The rooms were decorated with month. The rooms were decorated with many bright wild flowers and very effectively were they used. concert was given in Mrs. Tower's honor.

Dainty in every appointment was the high tea given last evening by Mrs. Edward Moore in honor of Miss Gertrude Mayer, one of the June brides. Pink and white were the colors used for decoration, they being the colors for the wedding of Miss Mayer and Mr. Crismon. The centerpiece in the dining-room was composed of many pink and white roses, the place cards carrying out the rose idea. Spays of pink roses were found at the guests places, with the exception of the bride-elect's, that being of bride's roses. The guests included the members of the bridal party, with the exception of Miss Anna Adams, who was unable to be present. The guests were Miss Helen Buckingham. Miss Alicen Crismon, Miss Louise Wey, Miss Crete. Pinkerton, Messrs, Edward Moore, Charles C. Crismon, Joe Grant, Wayne Hemphill, Mr. Wyland, Mr. Charles of Kompton Ohio, and Leon Mayer.

PEACE COMPACT MADE. Hill-Harriman Crowds Have Buried the Hatchet.

NEW YORK, May 24 .- A peace compact between the Hill-Harriman interests is now established by the provisions of which the Union Pacific will extend from Portland on north through Tacoma to Seattle. The Great Northern Northern Pacific and Harriman lines will work this Puget Sound territory in harmony and on definite agreement regarding transcontinental freight and passenger traffic. This announcement was pretty generally given out in Wall street today, and seems to be official. The Harriman system has for a number of years been seeking another outlet on the Pacific coast. This it has sought through Seattle to which city it had years ago graded and partly built a line. The recent adjustment of conflicting interests between the Hill and Harriman interests has now made this possible. A year ago President Harriman gave it out that he would build north from Portland, Or., to Puget Sound Since that time nothing had been heard of this project until four weeks ago, when a conference was held on the Pacific coast in which this, among other things, was discussed. is now established by the provisions which this, allows collections and the Hill incusard.

It seems that in the recent adjustment of affairs Mr. Harriman and the Hill interests came together on this point, with the result that the extension is to be constructed. In operating the Harriman system in the State of Washington it will form a link connecting the Union Pacific and Northern Pacific systems, and it will be so operated that it will work to the benefit of both when it of nes to transcontinental traffic.
